Suggests Vote on Truman Proposal as Sent To Smoke Out Laggards.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb 26—Senator Bridges (R-NH), who favors a $6 000 000 000 slash in President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget, challenged his colleagues today to e are themselves on the question of accepting the White House spending estimated without reduction

Asserting "the truth is that a of senators want no cuts at Bridges suggested a test vote a proposal to agree to Mr Truman's budget total

That way, he told a reporter, the country then will know who opposes all cuts"

His challenge came as the senate resumed debate on a proposal to establish a budget ceiling of $[illegible]000 000,000 compared with $3[illegible]00,000,000 which the house has approved for the spending top

On the labor front a group of congressmen favoring compulsory arbitration to settle labor disputes threatening public health or safety served notice they will push their proposal

Oppose Compulsory Arbitration

Most union and management witnesses at the senate and house labor committee hearings have opposed compulsory arbitration

Rep Auchincloss (R-NJ), one of the group backing the proposal, said sure management and labor oppose compulsory arbitration, but they don't come up with anything else Certainly the proposal not dead The American people won't stand for inaction"

AFL President William Green was due to testify before the house committee He previously has appeared before the senate group, where he assailed the restrictive legislation under consideration

Belgian Police Fire On Mob

By The Associated Press

BRUSSELS, Feb 26—Belgian police fired machine guns in an effort to break up a demonstration of former war and political prisoners before the house of parliament here today and some of the demonstrators fell in the streets, apparently hit

Most of the bullets were aimed over the heads of the rioters Police also used sabers and rifle-butts to push back the leaders

An early check showed 20 persons were injured, struck by swords clubs and flying bottles

Scores of persons were trampled Windows were smashed by the weight of crowds pressing against store fronts Bottles were hurled toward the triple police lines

The riots resulted from a demonstration in which more than 50 000 men participated, demanding recognition by the Belgian government of a special status as ex-prisoners, and payment of the remainder of a bonus, part of which has already been paid

Lines of mounted police bolstered by gendarmes on foot blocked the massive demonstration as it reached the head of Rue Royale one of the principal avenues of Brussels.

State Senators, Heckled By Vet Marchers, Study Bonuses

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O, Feb 26—State senators, worked over by a jeering band of marching veterans, turned today to the task of drafting a bonus plan on which voters will have the final say at an election

"There's no delay on the veterans' bonus question," declared Sen D A Liggitt (R-Logan) chairman of the senate military affairs committee, as hearings were resumed by his five-member sub-committee

Some 400 sign-carrying veterans, more than half of them from Cleveland marched on the statehouse yesterday afternoon demanding immediate bonus payments, low rent housing a fair employment practices commission and other benefits

The Ohio veterans conference, in session in Columbus, sponsored the bonus march Members said it grew out of work done by the Collinwood veterans committee composed of delegates from 35 union shops in the Cleveland industrial area.

The marchers bore signs saying "Ohio Vets Want Cash, Not Promises" 'Vets Can't Eat Medals" "We Want a Low Rent Housing Project" 'We Fought for Democracy, Not To Destroy Our Unions" A number of the signs carried the numbers of the CIO locals of which the veterans are members

Surround Senators

Part of them surrounded Cuyahoga county senators following the afternoon session and booed lustily when they were told that the senate committee hearings would delay a meeting with a veterans' delegation

Sens Jack A Persky, a subcommittee member, and Allen N Corlett both Cleveland Republicans, then cancelled their appointments and met with some 200 marchers in the senate assembly room A number of state representatives from Cleveland also attended the noisy meeting

At the same time other marchers conferred with Gov Thomas J. Herbert while still others argued in separate knots in the senate chamber with Sen. Kyle F Brooks (R-Hamilton), a subcommittee member, Sen Margaret A Mahoney (D-Cuyahoga) and Sen William Tyrrell (R-Montgomery).

Herbert assured the veterans FEPC legislation would be considered, that bonus proposals were being studied but that he was "not advocating any particular method of financing a bonus"

Want Tax on Big Incomes

John Brennon and Joe Chaka, Cleveland leaders of the marchers, said taxes on large incomes and corporate profits should finance bonuses instead of increased realty or sales taxes as generally proposed

Corlett told listeners, despite heckling, that a bonus could be paid only if voters at an election approved a change in the Ohio constitution which now limits the state debt to $750,000.

He explained that bonus payments would run between $300,000,000 to $600,000,000 and that the state surplus could not be used because appropriations for special groups were banned.

His observation was in reply to a statement that veterans couldn't understand why some of them were without homes when the state had a surplus of $190,000,000.

BUFFALO TEACHERS URGE "NO POLITICS"

By The Associated Press

BUFFALO, N Y, Feb 26—The independent Buffalo teachers federation, in its third day of a school paralyzing strike today called upon city officials to abandon 'party politics' and consider the 'welfare of the children and the preservation of the schools

In Albany, meanwhile, Republican administration sources indicated that today's scheduled report of Gov Thomas E Dewey's special education committee on a new teacher salary plan would be postponed until tomorrow or Friday

On the report, according to Republican Mayor Bernard J Dowd, rests the city's hopes for funds to grant raises to teachers and other city employes.

The strikers are asking a $2,400-$4 000 salary scale, compared with a $1,875-$2,975 overall scale now in effect. The strike has closed 78 of the city's 98 schools Nearly 2,500 of 2,960 teachers are participating

The city's school attendance yesterday was 9,732 out of 71,000 pupils compared with 9,756 Monday

U. S. WARY OF LATEST SOVIET PEACE GESTURE

Horse Trading Suspected in Russ Indorsement of U. S. Island Ownership.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 — Russia's out-of-the-blue endorsement of United States trusteeship over Pacific islands once ruled by Japan provided an unexpected new twist today to Soviet-American relations

Moscow's note saying Russia deems it entirely fair for United States to keep control of the 623-odd islands left diplomatic authorities guessing whether there might be more behind the note than meets the eye

They hoped it forecasts improved prospects for a European peace settlement at next month's Moscow conference of the Big Four foreign ministers But because of the almost unbroken series of recent disagreements between Washington and Moscow they privately were wary of a possible diplomatic maneuver

Secretary of State Marshall kept his own counsel in announcing the Soviet action yesterday He declined comment on a reporter's suggestion that Russia might be trying to set a precedent to justify her own postwar land acquisitions

Tokyo Is Suspicious

Tokyo dispatches today, however mentioned immediate but unofficial suspicions that the Soviet Union might be trying to bargain for extended influence in East Asia

Some Japanese, the dispatches said saw in Russian references to American sacrifices in capturing the islands an attempt to insure that former Japanese industrial equipment taken from Manchuria would not be included in the total reparations assessments against Japan The Russians already have cited their "sacrifices" in the Manchurian campaign

The general inclination on Capitol Hill appeared to be to accept the Kremlin's gesture at its face value

Seen As Good Omen

Senator Wiley (R-Wis), a member of the foreign relations committee told reporters "I think Russia's approval is a good omen for future collaboration between the two greatest nations of the world It will mean the brushing aside of a lot of superficial misunderstandings"

Senator Hickenlooper, also member of the committee, commented "I am glad that Russia has agreed to a policy and principle entirely justified by the facts and the sacrifices we made in bringing the war in the Pacific to a successful conclusion"

The United States proposal to administer as a 'strategic area" the islands which the League of Nations had mandated to Japan after World War I was due to come before the United Nations security council today

Russia generally had been expected to side with British and Australian contentions that the whole issue should be postponed until a peace treaty is concluded with Japan

MANSFIELD, O, Feb 26 — A shortage of gas forced the Tappan Stove Company to curtail operations today and 700 employes were made idle

Meanwhile, the Dominion Electric Manufacturing Company, which had shut down yesterday and laid off 600 workers because of a gas shortage, resumed production

Congress Gets Armed Forces Merger Bill

Federal Agency Discounts Talk Of Pork Chops at $1 a Pound

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb 26—The agriculture department today discounted talk of $1-a-pound pork chops with an assertion that housewives won't stand for it.

Skyrocketing hog prices merely reflect a seasonal decline in marketable animals, said Charles L. Harlan, department livestock price specialist.

"It is possible that prices during the first half of the year may hold their own or increase very slightly said James P Cavin farm and food price economist But we see no possibility of their climbing back to anywhere near the peak of last October"

Some foods already have declined in cost since the first of the year and further decreases are expected In this class are fluid milk butter, cheese evaporated milk, dry milk eggs poultry, fresh and frozen fish fresh and processed vegetables, and canned fruits

Predicts Summer Downturn

The department's economics bureau in a recent food situation report predicted a downturn in prices of better grades of beef in the spring and summer when marketings of cattle now on grain feed should increase

With large slaughter in prospect prices of all cattle are likely to decline more than seasonally in the second half of the year especially in late 1947," the report said

Officials pointed out that prices of eggs and some dairy products have dropped to levels requiring the government to act to assure producers minimum prices guaranteed them by law

Grain prices have increased somewhat in recent weeks under the impact of a heavy foreign demand But officials expect a reaction when the 1947 winter wheat crop—now being forecast as the largest on record—is harvested in the spring and early summer

In a report issued today on the outlook for food fats and oils the department said prices of these commodities are expected to continue at present levels during the next few months But they may decline when marketings of this year's soybean, peanut, and flaxseed crops begin

Additional Reassurance Given

Additional reassurance for worried consumers came from Dr Edwin C Nourse chairman of a three-man panel of economists set up to advise the President under the employment act of 1946 Nourse declared 1947 will see a transition 'definitely from a sellers' market to a buyers market"

On the other side of the picture Hogs hit $30 a hundred pounds, highest in history, at Chicago yesterday and a meat packing official commented that consumers seem willing to pay high for pork

Stocks broke $1 to $4 in New York because of fears by shareholders that cost of living hikes may lead to new wage demands and production-hampering strikes

Maj Gen Philip B Fleming, administrator of the office of temporary controls said sugar may soar to 30 cents a pound unless congress restores $16,000,000 slashed from OPA spending estimates

Fleming added that rents might rise an average of $7 50 per month per family A senate banking subcommittee yesterday recommended end of rent controls Dec 31 and a 10 per cent increase in ceilings now

No Hogs Offered, Prices Sag to $28.50 Today

Hog prices, which yesterday reached an all-time peak of $29 at the Marion Union stockyards sagged to $28.50 today and livestock officials reported no hogs were brought into the local market.

Approximately 120 of the 158 hogs sold here yesterday brought the top price, and livestock officials attributed the absence of hogs today to the sudden break in the market.

Hog prices here had shown a steady climb for the last three weeks, breaking all previous records in the history of the stockyards.

TAX PROGRAM KEPT ROLLING

Legislature Works in High Gear on Herbert Financial Recommendations.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS O, Feb 26 — Legislative leaders kept the first phase of the administration's pay-as-you-go tax program rolling in high gear today

Representatives called up for quick passage the 65 per cent utility excise tax containing a provision that counties could use their share of revenues for other welfare work in addition to poor relief

Similar action was expected tomorrow on renewal of the cent-a-gallon liquid fuel levy, after passage yesterday of the two-cents-a-pack cigarette tax, 122 to 2

Gov Thomas J Herbert has termed the three levies, which yield about $32 500 000 annually, essential to maintain state government on a pay-as-you-go basis All expire in a few weeks unless reenacted

Chairman Stanley G McKie (R-Hamilton) of the senate taxation committee said the tax measures would receive prompt attention.

Herbert Chills Hopes

Herbert chilled hopes of supporters for a $40,000,000 a year increase in school subsidies He told a committee headed by Walton Bliss, executive secretary of the Ohio Education association, that he "doubted very much if the state could stand the $40,000 000 a year additional as calculated in the Daniels-Cramer school bill"

The OEA has called upon teachers to disregard anonymous letters urging a 'work holiday" to a march on the capitol The Daniels-Cramer bill would set a $2,000 annual floor under teachers' salaries

The senate education committee's hearing for proponents of the school bill failed to produce any witnesses yesterday, but Chairman Virgil F Cramer (R-Lucas) said another session would be held next week Three well-attended hearings have been conducted for proponents

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Feb 26—Mrs. Hannah Tressler was the center of attention at the Evangelical and Reformed church home here today for a special reason—she was 100 years old.

A resident of the home for the last nine years, she still is alert in mind although no longer able to walk about, and was enjoying her birthday anniversary from her bed

Her big day began early this morning when she was greeted by the 48 residents of the home immediately after breakfast. From 2 to 4 p. m this afternoon she was to receive relatives and friends. Among those who are expected to visit her during the day is a daughter, Mrs. Mary Kahler of Canton, O.

Receives Many Callers

During the past week Mrs. Tressler has received nearly 350 greetings from friends and relatives. More than 100 were received today and 147 yesterday. Last night her pastor, Dr. Carl Kaepke of the First Evangelical and Reformed church in Canton visited her and brought her the official greetings of her home church.

A large birthday cake, elaborately decorated with "100" written in candles on its top was included in the birthday dinner held in her honor.

Known by all residents of the home and by her many friends as "Grandma Tressler," she was born near Waynesburg, O, in Stark county, Feb. 26, 1847, the eldest of a family of 12 children, eight boys and four girls Two sisters still living are Mrs Anice Sponseller, 90, and Miss Ida Casper, 83, both of Canton.

11 CLUBS LOSE LIQUOR PERMIT

State Board Revokes License in All But One of Cases Heard.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb 26 — After revoking licenses of 11 private clubs in 12 cases heard, and suspending action on the other, the state liquor control board scheduled hearings today on circumstances surrounding formation of five other northern Ohio clubs.

The board revoked private club permits of four additional Cleveland organizations yesterday and postponed a decision regarding the Bayonett club pending the appearance before the panel of Attorney Alvin M Spero, whose name appeared in two cases.

Object of a search by board agents seeking an explanation of his alleged activities in issuance of a D-4 permit for the Bayonett club, Spero said he would be willing to appear before the board

Chief Prosecutor Charles G Schnur connected the attorney yesterday with both the Bayonett and Inter-League Bowling club permits, because the notation "Spero" was written on "Please Expedite" slips initialed by Harlan T Chapman, former chief of the permit and enforcement division of the liquor department

Permits of the Bowling club, the Painters Social club, the Keystone club and the Relen Recreation club were revoked on grounds that they were not bona fide clubs, organized three years prior to the granting of the liquor licenses

Harry T Shannon, common pleas court bailiff and president of the Keystone club, testified his club minutes were written on scratch paper and typed recently

GREEN CHARGES PLOT TO BREAK UP UNIONS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—AFL President William Green declared today that the "real purpose" behind most labor laws proposed in the new congress "is to destroy unions and wreck collective bargaining."

He contended in a statement prepared for the house labor committee that none of the legislation deals with "the causes of industrial unrest that has swept the country since V-J day." The main cause, Green insisted, was inflation.

"The record, which no one can dispute," the 72-year-old leader of the American Federation of Labor said, "shows that during the most critical period following the termination of hostilities, [illegible] out of every 100 workers who engaged in a work stoppage did so only because they were caught in the economic vise of rising prices and declining postwar income.

"The record shows that one basic cause of that unrest was inflation. The other major cause was government intervention into labor-management relations. Not one of these bills relates in any manner to the problem of inflation and all of them increase, rather than remove, government intervention."

Green singled out for opposition bills which would outlaw the closed shop, prohibit boycotts, ban union dues check-offs, require cooling-off periods before strikes, force public financial accounting by unions, and impose compulsory arbitration.

TRUMAN SENDS ROUGH DRAFT

Suggested Measure Would Set Up Single Defense Department, 3 Services.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb 26—President Truman sent to congress today the draft of a proposed bill calling for the unification of the armed forces

The legislation would set up a national defense establishment, under a civilian secretary of national defense who would have cabinet rank.

The legislation would bring under the defense establishment equally-important departments of the army, the navy and the air force.

Each of the three branches of the armed services would have a secretary to direct its activities as an individual unit. The three secretaries—for army, navy and air force—in turn would operate under direction of the secretary of national defense

Only Top Man In Cabinet

While all four secretaries would be subject to confirmation by the senate, the White House said only the secretary of national defense would have cabinet rank.

The President, in a letter submitting the proposed legislation, informed Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) presiding officer of the senate, and Speaker Martin (R-Mass) of the house.

"It is my belief that this suggested legislation accomplishes the desired unification of the services and I heartily recommend its enactment by the congress"

The draft, entitled "national security act of 1947," was completed by Clark M Clifford, the President's special counsel, after lengthy consultations with the secretaries of war and navy and the joint chiefs of staff, all of whom, Mr Truman said, approved the bill.

Separate Air Force

Under the measure, the United States air force would be established under the department of the air force to which would be transferred the Army Air Forces, the Air Corps of the United States army, and general headquarters air force (air force combat command.)

The President would appoint, subject to senate confirmation, a chief of staff of the air force for a term of four years. The functions of the commanding general of the air force combat command, the chief of the air corps, and the commanding general of the army air forces would be transferred to this chief of staff.

The legislation sets up within the national defense establishment the joint chiefs of staff, to be made up of the chief of staff of the United States army, the chief of naval operations, the chief of staff of the United States air forces, and the chief of staff to the commander-in-chief "if there be one"

This joint command would act as principal military advisor to the President and the secretary of national defense, preparing strategic plans and providing for strategic direction of the military forces

While the secretaries of the army, the navy and the department of the air force would function under the overall direction of the secretary of national defense, the legislation provides that any of the three may appeal directly to the President, after informing the national defense secretary of any

KINGDOM OF PETROLEUM

East-West Rub Elbows in Oil Fields of Barren Saudi Arabia

(This is the second of three stories on American oil development and its effects on the desert people of Saudi Arabia)

By MAX BOYD

Associated Press Writer

DHAHRAN, SAUDI ARABIA, Feb. 26—By the year 2005 when the present concessions of the Arabian American Oil Company Expire, it should be interesting to see what effect the Americans have had on the centuries-old simplicity of Arab life.

Dhahran, the town where the company's offices are situated, is a small section of America transplanted. Its California bungalows, costing around $25,000 each, stand on a hill of sand-covered rock overlooking the desert and, distantly, the Persian gulf. They are air-conditioned against summer temperatures that often run between 100 and 120 degrees Fahrenheit. The older areas are green with plantings; the newer ones sandy and bare.

King Ibn Saud, who visited the community recently for the first time since 1939, admired the neatness and stability of the houses but found them too confining and moved to a tent camp in the desert. Several of his more than 30 sons stayed in the American homes.

East and west meet constantly in Dhahran.

An Arab cook leaves his kitchen, with its electric iceboxes and other western gadgets, to pray to Allah beneath the bright dome of the sky.

Play Night Baseball

Shouting, razzing Americans beat out bunts and knock out homeruns on a flood-lighted night baseball field.

Arab children of the company's Djebel school, where both English and Arabic are taught, imitate the American players.

Arab drivers wheel American trucks along the oiled highways.

Saudi Arabians in colorfully-robed headdresses police their own people; four former New York policemen help on gate control and finger-printing.

In the evenings Americans go to the clubhouse for the movies. They drink malted milks or highballs, swim in a large concrete pool, play tennis on excellent courts, churn up the sand, of a small golf course, play pool, read, converse and complain.

Friday, instead of Sunday, is the usual day off because it is the Sabbath for thousands of Moslem Arab employes.

Saturday Night Parties

On Saturday nights the Americans give parties in their homes, like countless weekend get-togethers from California to New York. If a TWA plane is due in with friends returning from home leave, some of the parties end up at the $3,000,000 airport built and still operated by the United States Army Air Forces.

Religious observances on Sundays are largely up to the individual family. There is no church, lest it create the suspicion that the American residents are trying to lure Moselms away from their faith. Sometimes, on the occasion of a death or marriage, a priest comes by boat from the nearby island Sheikdom of Bahrein.

Keeping employes happy is one of the main problems. During 1946 the turnover of personnel amounted to 41.36 per cent—about 3½ per cent per month.

Number Who Quit Down

James MacPherson, resident vice president, says the number who quit is falling steadily. Another official feels it is a big mistake to come to Arabia for the sole purpose of "making a stake." It is no place, he says, for the man who is not genuinely interested in his job.

The company encourages its employes to learn Arabic, and before they leave the states it gives them a booklet of information deemed essential. This includes admonitions to respect Saudi Arabian laws and customs, refrain from striking or cursing an Arab under any circumstances, and avoid addressing or molesting Arab women, who have no public social life.

An Arab interpreter suggests one improvement. His people would like Americans better he says, if they studied Arab history and cutoms carefully before coming out.

DAILY LENTEN MEDITATIONS

IN THE CHRIST OF THE CROSS WE GLORY

Today's Text: "And they followed Jesus." John 1:37.

THE words tell what two of John's disciples did when he pointed to Jesus and said: "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world."

These disciples had a great leader and preacher in John the Baptist. They had seen him sway the multitudes. They had experienced the joy that comes after repentance. But they had a deep soul need that had not yet been met. When John pointed to Jesus, they recognized in Him the One that could meet that soul need. Why? Because Christ could settle the sin problem. He could take their sin away.

To do this Christ had to go to the Cross. Because He went to the Cross and bore our sins there, we can glory in Him. If He had only lived a good life and worked miracles, we would have long ago ceased to glory in Him. But the One who took away our sins will never fade from the horizon of our glory.

REV. W. E. ZIMMERMAN,
Pastor, Church of the Nazarene.

YOUR HEALTH

Influenza

For the first time in history, medical science now has a weapon against influenza. The discovery of a vaccine to aid in prevention of this disorder is one of the great scientific advances which help to offset the terrible cost of war. For the anti-flu vaccine is a war-born discovery. The search for it was inspired by the need to protect large bodies of troops from the disease and proof of its value was confirmed by work on Army and Navy personnel.

As a result, doctors can now say with some certainty that the new vaccine will ward off influenza for periods of six months to a year. This does not mean, however, that all people should receive it at yearly intervals. Its chief use is foreseen when epidemic threatens. Then, it is hoped, that by giving it to large numbers of people, the rapid spread of the disease can be prevented.

In recent years, epidemics of influenza have not been as severe as the epidemic which occurrd in 1918. However, there is no way of knowing just when such a severe epidemic may strike.

It would seem that the vaccine is most effective for the first several months after it has been administered. Influenza is most dangerous for the aged and the very young. It is in these persons that attack by the influenza virus especially opens the door to infections of the lung, the sinuses or the middle ear, with germs.

Once influenza develops, there is no known preparation which directly attacks the virus. As with the common cold, the sulfonamide drugs and penicillin have been used in an effort to ward off the complications due to germs infection. Just how effective this may be has not yet been definitely determined but it does seem to help in many cases.

Influenza should not be confused with ordinary colds. In influenza there are such symptoms as fever, aching sensations in the muscles, some prostration, often a dry cough, and perhaps sore throat. Running nose is not a prominent symptom.

The patient with influenza should, of course, be put to bed and the physician called at once. The patient should remain in bed for a day or two after the fever has completely subsided. The doctor will prescribe such preparations as may be required to relieve headache, cough, pain and fever. If there is a marked degree of inflammation of the larynx or voice box and the trachea or windpipe the breathing in of steam will help to give relief.

In elderly persons, particularly, convalescence from influenza is slow. Allowing the patient to be out of bed too early may produce damage to the heart. In this way, influenza may be an extremely damaging disorder.

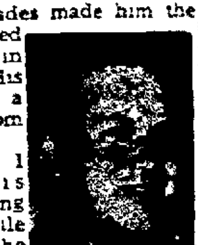
Harry K. Thaw Called Notoriety on the Shelf

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

[illegible]AMI BEACH, Fla., Feb 26, [illegible] K. Thaw, once America's [illegible]torious millionaire, goes to [illegible] no more than an empty [illegible] to the rising generation.

[illegible] 35 years after he shot to [illegible] Stanford White in June 25, [illegible] er the affections of Evelyn [illegible]—the most celebrated love [illegible] slaying of the twentieth [illegible]—Thaw's court battles and [illegible] escapades made him the [illegible] publicized [illegible] wealth in [illegible] on His [illegible] like a [illegible] story from [illegible]



Hal Boyle

[illegible] when I [illegible] his [illegible] o a young [illegible] while [illegible] e to the [illegible] Beach [illegible] front home [illegible] Thaw died [illegible] outh did not recognize his [illegible]

[illegible] ever heard of him," he said, [illegible] apologetically "but I [illegible] here in Miami all my life."

[illegible] a measure of the oblivion [illegible] the madcap millionaire, [illegible] more than fifteen years [illegible] when he finally gave up his [illegible] producing antics

Picture of Sedateness

[illegible] death at 76 Thaw was [illegible] ture of a sedate retired [illegible] man of means—an unbent [illegible] inch patrician, still handsome with his thick white [illegible] and small moustache Al[illegible] he once had tossed away [illegible] a night on gay parties, he was a conservative in money mat[illegible] He disapproved of the New Deal and considered himself a staunch Republican in politics

As he sat in beach chairs on the lawn of the rented 15-room [illegible] where Thaw had wintered [illegible] quietly the last two years few neighbors knew his identity, his attorney Sidney Werner, gave this last portrait of the man

Thaw didn't like gambling in any form He was reticent and didn't express his moods or feelings

"Gentle and Kind"

He was one of the gentlest and kindest of souls, and anyone who was in close contact with him became genuinely devoted to him.

His philosophy was to help others who needed it—and with the least possible fanfare He helped many poor people and sent a number of boys and girls through school But it upset him if his charities became known

"He was a fanatic for the truth I never knew him to tell a lie

"He very seldom went to night clubs, and then only for dinner He rose at 7 a m and went to bed at 9 to 9 30 His chief diversions were automobile riding [illegible] and reading—he had a tremendous knowledge of history and geography.

I do not believe he saw Evelyn Nesbit the last 15 or 20 years of his life although he helped her out financially from time to time

He never spoke of his earlier troubles."

Although Thaw spent some eight years in insane asylums and took no active interest in business affairs, Werner said he had "a very keen mind."

In ill health since a paralytic stroke left him with an impaired right hand, Thaw enjoyed the seclusion which he found on a 67-acre $1,500 000 estate at Bolton, N Y, overlooking Lake George He bought the estate in 1943 after disposing of a home in Virginia.

He inherited $3 000 000 and large interests in coke producing properties from his father William Thaw, then rated as America's third wealthiest man—worth some $40,000 000

Born with a gold spoon in his mouth, Thaw never let it melt. He spent a million dollars trying to prove he wasn't insane and dropped uncounted hundreds of thousands more in court fights, expensive escapades, and fruitless ventures as a producer of movies that never reached the screen

But he died still high in the millionaire class—well able to be buried in a gold casket if he chose

His conversion to the quiet life, however, came too late to erase the resentment still felt against him by some elderly monied men They think the toss-dollar foibles of Thaw and other irresponsible wealthy playboys of his time helped cause an annoyed public to inflict the heavy income and inheritance taxes which still constrict many an anguished millionaire who never bought a chorus girl an ermine coat or threw a whisky bottle in a night club.

CITY ACCEPTS BID ON NEW FIRE TRUCK

LaFrance Machine To Be Delivered by Nov. 30.

Purchase of triple combination pumper for the city fire department was announced today by Safety-Service Director E. O. Uncapher.

The new machine was chosen Tuesday at a meeting of the city board of control, composed of Mr. Uncapher and Mayor Harry L. Dowler, aided by Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt.

It was purchased from the American-LaFrance-Foamite Corp. of Elmira, N. Y. for $13,130. Although the successful bid was higher than other bids received, Uncapher said the award was made because it was the only bid which set a definite delivery date. Delivery is required by the city by Nov. 30, 1947.

The machine, as purchased, includes a cab. Without cab, the same company bid $12,395. The other companies bidding were Mack-International Motor Truck Corp of Cleveland, $12,695.80 (without cab); and Ahrens Fire Engine Corp of Cincinnati, $12,942.50 (with cab), and $12,192.50 (without cab).

It will be 750-gallon a minute pumper, capable of the triple functions of pumping, carrying hose and carrying ladder.

No decision has yet been made as to which fire station the new equipment will be housed in, Uncapher said. None of the present fire equipment will be disposed of but will be kept in reserve, he added. No other additions to the fire department's equipment are being contemplated.

The new machine will bring to six the number of pumpers now available. In addition the fire department has an aerial ladder wagon, the chief's car, and a small supply truck.

RAIL MAN CALLS FOR EXECUTIVES IN GOVT.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb. 26—There must be a return of the business executive to the fields of both public relations and government "if we are to recapture our government," Robert R. Young, chairman of Alleghany Corp and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co., said today.

Young told the Cleveland Advertising club in a prepared address "there is no more excuse for top business executives having abdicated in the all important field of public relations than there is for their having abdicated in the field of government."

He asked his audience to "compare the diverse talents of the well-paid but over-taxed executives of our 450,000 corporations with the 528 members of our under-paid, lawyer-ridden, fee-seeking congress. Just look at them. Could there be a better answer to why we win wars and lose the peace—why the state, despite its leeching of all these corporations, still staggers under the threat of inflation, bankruptcy and atomic war?

"The only excuse that I can see for the abdication of our producers from government is the fact that the politicians, through their bureaus of cock-eyed administrative justice, have coerced us into submission."

Discussing advertising, Young declared "in 1947 the nation will pay out nearly 50 billions in taxes. It follows that a $500,000,000 increase in advertising appropriations devoted to better government, to pay for itself would have only to succeed in reducing taxes by one per cent. That I am convinced it could do 20 times over.

"Because the nation's labor bill comes to 80 billions annually, eight hundred million additional advertising dollars could profitably be spent to accomplish an increase in labor efficiency of only one per cent. A single ad addressed to the nation's price conscious housewives would accomplish more than that."

Boy, 7, Killed Trying To Rescue Grandfather

By The Associated Press

PULASKI, Tenn., Feb. 26—Seven-year-old Toby Malone was burned to death last night in a futile attempt to rescue his 70-year-old grandfather from their blazing apartment

The child and his grandparent, Pete Malone, were the only casualties of the fire which routed and left homeless 33 persons.

Firemen said Toby, outside the building when the fire was discovered, ran into the basement apartment of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Malone, to try to save his invalid grandfather.

RUSS GENERAL OUSTED

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 26—Because of the "pressure of work connected with his main duties," the Moscow radio says, Col. Gen. Andrei Aleksandrovitch Zhdanov, often mentioned as a possible successor to Prime Minister Stalin, has been relieved of his post as chairman of the council of the union of the supreme soviet at his own request. The council of the union is the smaller of the two houses of Russia's parliament. There was no immediate indication as to the significance of the action.

BRADLEY SAYS SOME GI JOBS "DEAD END"

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb 26—Gen. Omar Bradley, veterans administrator, said today unscrupulous employers with increasing frequency are jockeying veterans into "dead end" training programs.

In an address before an American Legion national employment conference, Bradley explained that he referred to employers who employ veterans on an on-the-job-training basis merely to escape paying full working wages, and where the so-called training offers no assurance of future advancement.

The veterans administration pays an allowance to veterans engaged in genuine on-the-job-training, such as a trade apprenticeship.

"Where the on-the-job-training is perverted into cheap labor schemes and used to exploit the veteran, it can produce nothing but grief and the uneconomic wastage of the veterans' rights and federal funds," Bradley said.

"We have had increasingly frequent reports which suggest that veterans are sometimes jockeyed into training programs that only offer dead end jobs. These short-sighted alternatives to regular productive jobs are not only morally dishonest but they may economically cripple those veterans who are involved."

Bradley said about 1,000,000 veterans are actively seeking work and estimated the unemployment rate among veterans is two and one-half times the rate among men generally. A severe economic recession, he said, could result in unemployment for betwen 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 veterans.

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS PLAN FOR INGATHERING

Marion Church To Take Part In Annual Service.

"Bringing faith to a world of fear" is the keynote for the 1947 Seventh-day Adventist annual Ingathering, Pastor H. G. Gauker announced today.

With a church goal of $1,000, members of the Adventist church here opened their fund raising campaign Feb. 22-'47 and expect to complete it during the next eight weeks.

More than a hundred Adventist physicians, ministers, teachers, nurses, and other missionary workers have recently gone to China, the Far East and other war areas, the pastor said. Many are returning to posts evacuated at the opening of the war. Hospitals, schools, publishing plants and churches will be rebuilt or reopened as rapidly as possible, he reported.

The denomination's war relief program has resulted in the shipment of 700 tons of clothing to Europe and the Far East, pastor H. G. Gauker explained, and that the Dorcas welfare society of the local Adventist church contributed 700 pounds of clothing to this total. The Marion church has also participated with the 000 Adventist congregations of North America in giving more than a million dollars for famine relief.

Elementary education has been compulsory in Denmark since 1739.

Who Uses Form W-2

Note: This is the third stories explaining who what about his in- return.)

By JAMES MARLOW
ssociated Press Writer

INGTON, Feb. 26—Who form W-2, the withhold- ement, in making his 1946 tax return?

W-2 is the receipt given ove by his boss for the held from his wages or 1946 ax is supposed to have hheld from all regular sala- o $5,000. can use W-2 if your was un- 000 and entirely ages or from the tax heln.

— suppose, t on to egular salary. income from which no withheld

James Marlow

You, too, can use form W-2 but only

If the additional income was no more than $100 and came from interest, dividends, or wages from which no tax was withheld, provided the total income still was under $5 000

Can't Use If—

You could not use form W-2 if—in addition to regular wages or salary—you had any income from things like rent, professional fees, or annuities, no matter how small.

In such a case—any income at all from rents or professional fees or annuities—you use the 1040 short-form, if your total income was under $5 000.

(Anyone with $5 000 or more income, from any source, must use the 1040 long-form.)

What of husbands and wives? Can they make a combined return on form W-2? Yes—

1 If their combined income, from which tax was regularly withheld was under $5 000

2 And if any additional income—from interest dividends or wages from which tax was not withheld—was no more than $100

And if

2. And if any additional income—from interest, dividends, or wages from which tax was not withheld—was no more than $100, and the total income for both was under $5 000

Supposition Stated

Suppose the combined salary of yourself and wife was $5,000 or more but individually was under $5,000.

You could file separate returns on form W-2 but not a joint one, since the combined income was $5 000 or more.

Or—you could file a joint return on the 1040 long-form, which is for income of $5 000 or more.

(In this case you couldn't file a joint return on the 1040 short-form which is for total income under $5,000.)

Husbands and wives can't file separately on form W-2 in the nine community property states of Arizona, California, Idaho, Louisiana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Washington.

They can file separately on the 1040 short-form if their individual salaries are under $5,000.

If you know that your deductions—for things like medical bills and charitable contributions—are more than 10 per cent of your income don't use form W-2. You'll lose money

In such a case use the 1040 long-form where you'll have to itemize your deductions but can take full credit for them, even though using the long-form means figuring out your own tax

There's no place on form W-2 for listing deductions You don't have to because a standard deduction of 10 per cent for everyone using form W-2 was allowed for in the tax withheld during the year

That's why—if your deductible expenses actually were more than 10 per cent—you should use the 1040 long-form.

We'll keep the song in its heart

You know the song well.

It's the lilting melody of a double-quartet of Buick cylinders all sweetly in tune. The humming harmony of Fireball power soaring you up the hills, winging you blithely along the straightaway.

It's one of the reasons you bought a Buick in the first place—why not keep it?

You can — if you make certain your car is not merely serviced but cared for as something this fine should be.

If you see that it gets not just an occasional oil change or body wash or battery check, but the thoughtful, expert, understanding attention that keeps your Buick always a Buick at its best.

It's to do just this that we equip our shop with special tools to do the job right and in the shortest time — keep our parts department stocked with parts approved by Buick engineers as right for the job — build our staff around people who specialize in knowing what makes Buick "tick."

It's the reason we look on every job that comes in not merely as work to be done — but as a result to be achieved.

The cost of such car care is no greater than the same amount of ordinary servicing. The return is far greater in the long-run smoothness, satisfaction and car life you get.

If you care about your Buick — let us care for it.

12,000 REASONS FOR GOOD CARE

Compared with your Buick, a fine watch is a piker. Your Buick has one hundred times as many parts — 12,000 of them — and every one planned and produced for its own special job.

Knowledge of these parts, how they're designed and what care they need, is important in such seemingly simple jobs as:

- ✓ Proper lubrication
- ✓ Clutch and brake adjustment
- ✓ Engine tune-up
- ✓ Care of cooling system
- ✓ Alignment of steering gear
- ✓ Adjusting shock absorbers for easiest ride

It's safer to get Buick care in all such matters.

Touch-Me-Nots

GEORGE O. LYNCH, a minor AFL official, has declared before the senate labor committee that union workmen who go on strikes to force employers to break the law are not entitled to the protection of the Wagner act. This is a sensational departure from the union credo that organized labor can do no wrong and that all talk of revising labor laws is "vicious" or "shocking."

But there is nothing peculiar to labor unions about this touch-me-not attitude. What some critics attribute to the arrogance of the unions' spokesmen is merely a characteristic of human nature. When human beings are on the defensive, they are in no mood to admit wrongdoing.

When the New Deal had securities operators over the barrel in the early 30's, they protested they had done no wrong and could do none. By refusing to give ground, they got slapped down harder than they would have been slapped down if they'd admitted that their blue-sky antics were indefensible.

Labor union spokesmen today face the same danger. They have forgotten how public utility laws were revised to deal with a business whose least scrupulous members insisted on hanging themselves on the rope provided by laws that needed revision. They have ignored what has happened at other times to banking, railroading and various branches of manufacturing which defied the public interest.

The time has come for labor union bosses to have their ears pinned back. Public patience has run out. But it will be the exceptional labor boss who will be able to read the handwriting on the wailing wall. The rest will protest that mortal blows are being struck at liberalism, unmindful of a recent discovery of great importance: that there's nothing liberal about riding roughshod over the rights of others.

Indian Housecleaning

IMMEDIATE fear of civil war has followed announcement that Great Britain will withdraw from India not later than June 1948. The fear is expressed by old-time Indian political leaders.

The finest service the British government could do in pulling out of India is to take with it 50 selected political leaders, hiding them in the baggage so they could be recorded as mysterious-disappearance cases.

These would be the 50 best-known agitators who have made careers out of bedeviling the British—old timers who know nothing else. They have nothing whatever to offer India now that Britain is withdrawing, and being old dogs they will learn no new tricks.

What India needs before June 1948 is a housecleaning, not more bedeviling.

Ready for a New Plug

SO MANY loopholes have been found in the laws to restrain financial skulduggery in politics that the time may be ripe for some new laws, on the premise it takes politicians a few years to find out how to disobey them.

This is apparently the reasoning behind a move in congress to repeal the corrupt practices act and the Hatch act and to substitute for them a new set of restrictions on political corruption. The spirit of both laws has been violated so often they have been useless.

They have been, in fact, worse than useless because they deceived the public into believing it was protested when it wasn't. Virtually everything supposed to be forbidden in politics can be done by persons and organizations which know the ropes.

The CIO, which is forbidden as a trade union to contribute to a campaign fund, can organize a PAC and contribute through it. Corporations, forbidden to contribute to campaign funds, can buy space in souvenir programs and tickets to $100-a-plate banquets, political parties, forbidden to receive or spend more than $3,000,000 a year, can divide and subdivide, to receive many times that much. No person can give more than $5,000 a year in any political campaign, but his wife, brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, cousins and drinking companions can give $5,000 too.

All the loopholes never can be plugged up, but it's a good idea every few years to put in some new plugs, to keep the loophole-users guessing.

DUTIES A BIT INTRICATE

The justice of the peace in a small southern town had to hear and judge cases that were brought before him, and he also performed occasional marriage ceremonies. This made it difficult for him to dissociate the various functions of his office. During the course of a wedding service one day, he asked the bride: "Do you take this man to be your husband?" The bride nodded emphatically. "And you," said the justice, turning to the bridegroom, "what have you to say in your own defense?"—Chicago Daily News.

News Behind the News

Occupation of Japan and Germany Compared.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—Here is an inside unofficial report on Germany, Japan and the American occupations (paraphrased conversationally) from an Army man who has studied both sectors. Keep this one for your scrapbook, because the top men are said to be growing alive to the deplorable situation it presents concerning the occupation of Germany. In line with it, General Marshall may change policy in the coming Moscow talks for a German treaty and the army certainly will be induced to make some corrections at least, if it does not overturn its German setup. Here it is:

The occupation of Japan is nearly perfect. This has been accomplished because the Japanese are behind General MacArthur, not only 100 per cent, but (in true Nipponese fashion) about 101 per cent. Industries have been restored and are functioning as well as any one expected. There are some defects but Japan is considerably supporting herself.

Far more important, the American soldier in Japan is a model. The officers have no trouble on looting, black markets, or even much on morality. Following the guidance set forth by MacArthur, they are cooperating with the people, and the people with them.

In Germany the occupation is disgraceful. It is a disgrace to American arms and administration. About 45 per cent of the occupation army, numbering nearly 200,000, are kids of less than 21 years of age. Another 30 or 35 per cent are repeaters, lads who came back to the state, could not get or did not want a job, knew of the conditions of black marketing and looting to be found in central Europe, and went back to get into them.

What Caused Trouble

But these kids and men are not to be held responsible for the corruption of the army of occupation. The men in charge should have set down an efficient program from the beginning, as MacArthur did. Their trouble was that after the war they did not know what to do. They had no occupation formula such as MacArthur developed. So they turned for guidance to propaganda from home, and the most vociferous of the public here demanded swift denazification of any and all Germans, retributive punishment and other steps which have kept Germany from supporting herself. Denazification is all right, as a theory. I feel that way myself. But nearly every one who knew how to run factories and business operations was naturally connected with the Nazi party one way or another, so what we have done is to debusinessize Germany in the process. It would have been far better if we had required some Nazis who knew how to do things, to work for us.

However you may look at this angle, our basic defect is that we did not improvise a workable plan for Germany because our commanders had not studied and did not know the German people. (MacArthur's economic and political aids had really studied Japan during the war.)

The Russian occupation is worse yet. The Reds came in and took everything they could lay their hands on. They even took silk wall paper off the walls. In the Berlin subway they made off with so much of the machinery that we had to go after them, and get some of it back in order to put the subway in operation. But particularly they took machinery of all kinds. I suppose their idea was to take it back to Russia and operate it, but much of it is still standing out on German sidings. The Russians did not have the know-how of transportation sufficiently to move it home in good order, or even the know-how of operation to run it after getting it home.

First Class Sabotage

Their soldiers operate just about on the mentality of our youngsters. They had some trouble with discipline at first. The papers now say this is straightened out. I would not know. But their operations in Germany show them to have done in general the first class job of sabotage our college boys might try on the night of the big game.

At best, you would have to call their occupation policy "short-sighted realism." They took everything, and now they can not use it. They ruined the German production system completely. What they should have done was to use it, make the Germans run it and produce enough for the German people and the army of occupation.

What should we do about all this? I thought a good deal about this on my trip when I had plenty of time to think. The only conclusion I could reach was that we should clean out our whole occupation system and start all over.

The army of occupation would be far more efficient if it were cut from under 200,000 down to a bare nucleus of say possibly 500. We need no more than this to do the top job of policing. Then we should employ both Germans and Poles (refugees escaped from Russian domination) to fill out the army and do the actual supervision of production. We employ both Germans and Poles now (as the British do in their zone) and say nothing about it. We should develop this field openly and strongly.

Then the Germans and Poles (who know Germany best) might be able to work out a plan of economic self-support. Until this is done, occupation will be costly and futile. But by doing this, we could bring the boys home where they belong, cut down the tremendous current costs (I am really speaking of both Germany and Austria in practically all my observations and conclusions.) and put the sector on a workable basis.

Howl at Home

Of course, I realize that if General Marshall starts to develop such a policy there will probably be a howl. The domestic politicians will cry out that we are retiring from Europe, and abandoning our obligations there (really we would not be.) Then there is the more valid question of whether withdrawal would open Germany to further Russian aggression. Personally I do not think there is the slightest danger of this. I have never seen the Russians able to produce anything except children. They have man power, nothing else.

If you start talking about leaving war potentials to Germany you will never be able to find a solution. Food actually is a great war potential but it can not be denied the Germans. Frankly I am not afraid of Germany. No one could possibly be who had seen it. Nor am I afraid of Russia.

I think we should get the boys out and supervise the occupation job through the Germans and the Polish refugees.

But Who Represents The Lucid Fringe?

"Five per cent of our congressmen should be in an insane asylum," according to Representative Albert Rains of Alabama.

As traditionally the case with southern Democrats, Representative Rains seems to lean to ultra-conservatism.

Five per cent crazy? Why, you can find more than that who still think Truman won't be a candidate in '48.

Both Republicans and Democrats having a far bigger totals. Rep. Rains view may be taken as strictly non-partisan. Indeed, insanity runs across party lines in the house like restaurant syrup over a pancake.

Not only do we have this testimony that there are idiots in congress, but also—to judge from the Congressional Record—they are of the blithering variety.

All of which makes one wonder: Does congressional immunity apply to lunacy writs?

Still, there's this about it: Whatever their sanity quotient, not even the worst of our congressmen are half as crazy as those of us who send them up there.

Modern Comforts for Cows

BY LAWRENCE N. ELDRED
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO, Feb. 14—Old Bossy and her pal Ferdinand never had it so good—and it's getting better all the time. The end of the war opened up a whole array of new gadgets to make their living conditions better.

On many a farm their dairy barn home is becoming electrically heated, ventilated, and cleaned. Their food is served up to them electrically. They can have an electrical drinking fountain to assure them fresh, temperature-controlled water regardless of the weather.

Of course, the real reason behind the new deal for dairy herds is to lighten the labor of the farmer. A new dairy barn cleaner, powered by electricity, can clean the average barn in 10 to 15 minutes. Done by hand the same job would take 1½ to two hours.

Time-labor surveys on farms have revealed 75 per cent of farming time is expended in chores and other routine work around the farm buildings, while only 25 per cent is spent in the field work. To reduce their average 65-hour work week, farmers are turning more and more to electrical power for help, say government rural electrification experts.

They estimate there still are about 3,500,000 rural homes without electricity. The estimates are that there is a calculated demand backlog of $5,000,000,000 for new electrical farm appliances and the power lines and equipment necessary to energize them.

Women in Politics

The Democratic and Republican national committees report that 206 women were elected to state legislatures in November.

Of that number 189 were elected to state assemblies, 17 to state senates.

Fifty-four were Democrats, 152 Republicans.

Women in both parties were elected to special state offices, including secretary of state, state auditor and superintendent of public instruction.

Role for U. S. in Greece

By STEWART ALSOP

ATHENS, Feb 25 — The United States has got to fish or cut bait, not only in Greece, but throughout this whole area. In a rather crude nutshell, that is the opinion of every experienced observer in Athens. It is also the conclusion which has been independently reached and dispatched to Washington by both Mark F. Ethridge, head of the American delegation of the United Nations Commission, and Paul A. Porter, chief of the American Economic Mission to Greece.

The conclusion is in essence this: Either the United States makes a determined effort to bring some sort of order out of the political and economic chaos in which Greece is now wallowing, or Greece is mathematically certain to become another Soviet-Balkan puppet with the profoundest effect on the whole world balance of power.

If the United States decides to make this effort, Porter and Ethridge will be initially, at least, the two chief instruments of the radically new American policy. Their jobs will be cut out for them. A brief glance at the present internal situation of Greece is enough to show why.

In the first place, Porter has found himself confronted with an economic crisis which threatens to blow the whole of Greek economy sky high within two to four weeks. If that happens, Porter and Ethridge might just as well have stayed at home.

Basis of Trouble

The crisis springs from the fact that the Greek drachma has been held in some sort of wobbly equilibrium for a number of months only by offering sovereigns minted from the pre-war stock of Greek gold in exchange for paper money. Now the Greek government is scraping the bottom of the barrel and already the warier Greek merchants are refusing to deal in drachmas in large sums. If nothing is done, the drachma will again litter the Athens streets within a month at the latest and all hope of bringing order out of the Greek economic mess will have come to an end.

In these circumstances, Porter's first objective has been to buy time, a commodity which only the United States government can now afford. His first effort met with a rebuff when the Federal Reserve Bank rather haughtily pointed out that the technique he advocated was contrary to its charter. Yet, Porter is a determined man and it is probable that some expedient will be found. Even so, he will not really have begun to do his job: he will merely have made it possible to do a job at all.

The Greek political situation and the Greek economy are in effect one and the same problem. The guerrilla fighting in the north is a terrible strain on the feeble Greek economy, a fact of which those who organized and control the guerrillas are fully aware.

Intelligence reports indicate that the guerrillas have recently greatly expanded their area of control so that the fighting threatens to take on the character of a full-scale civil war. The guerrillas, commanded by the Communists, are ably abetted by the Communist - Leftist coalition, the E.A.M. They support the guerrillas with adroit propaganda, which they are willing to carry to remarkable lengths.

Grim Reminder

On one recent occasion, they planted a corpse for a junketing M.P. to trip over, with the the idea of convincing him of the merciless terror of the Greek "Monarcho-Fascist" regime.

More important than the Communist propaganda have been their secret organizations, of which the most successful is the Kossa, established to infiltrate and weaken the Greek army. No one knows how many Kossa men there are. When uncovered, they have always been found to be those soldiers who had saluted most sharply and clicked their heels most enthusiastically. The Greek army contemplates an all-out drive against the guerrillas in the spring and it will then become clear just how effective the work of the Kossa has been.

As for the Greek government, it has often been described as Fascist. Its main characteristic seems to be rather its total incompetence. There is no doubt that it was elected fairly and by a huge majority and there is also no doubt that it has allowed complete freedom of speech and of political action, at least in Athens. But at the last elections, the Greek people, revolted by the excesses of the Communists, turned in terrified reaction to the right.

The result is a government largely dominated by a small group of rich traders and merchants who religiously avoid the payment of income taxes. These men are totally incapable even of discussing the kind of sweeping social and economic reforms which alone could counteract the quite natural attraction of Communism in this misery-ridden country.

Lifetime at Trough

There are a few capable men in the government and a few tired old men of good will, like Maximos, the new prime minister, but most Greek politicians have no higher ambition than to continue to taste the profitable delights of a free economy at American expense. To the skirts of politicians clings a vast mass of civil servants, astonishingly unefficient who are guaranteed by law a lifetime place at the public trough.

There is some Fascist talk in the smart bars in Athens, but the real failure of the Greek government is better typified by American luxury goods bought with precious dollars, visible in the windows of rich shops while small boys beg at the doors of the foreigners' hotels.

But more tragic than government incompetence is the new and bitter hatred between Greek and Greek. Neither American economic aid nor the implacable blood-letting of Soviet rule will soon end that. Certainly Porter and Ethridge have their job cut out for them, but it is only necessary seriously to consider the alternative to realize why so many competent experts here are convinced that it is a job which must be done.

Chief of Staff, UN Recreational Activities:

DEAR JAN:

Well, the newspapers say you are w with the architects for the inclusion of an inte national sports and recreation center in the ne UN home on the East River, New York. It w include an outdoor skating rink, swimming pool a gym, theaters, steam baths, lounges, pa tennis courts, tea gardens and even a "thera peutic chamber." Now, nobody begrudges th delegates these things, but somehow it all loo so silly in print at a time when all the wor is asking UN for its hard work and deep con centration.

The prestige of UN is not lifted in the pub mind when the picture of an all-out crusade save the world is linked up with a picture of th crusaders doing figure eights on the ice, perfec ing their swimming strokes, lounging in te gardens, dancing in the moonlight and romp from cocktail bar to steambath. Gromyko make the American public sore enough blitzing peac hopes under conditions as they now exist wit out relaxing in deluxe diplomatic playground And it would just about kill American confi dence in peace if it got some news-reel pictur of him and the other Russian delegates bei late to an atomic bomb meeting because th stopped to have their skates sharpened.

Mind you, Jan, I do not say that delegates this drab business of fighting for global peac do not deserve a little fun. I would not depr them of steam baths, cocktail lounges and sw ming pools. I would even throw in some mi auto races, golf courses, ski jumps and pa mutuels, even though I think that after o those all-day arguments the reading pub needs a letdown more than the delegates to U All I say is that it should be done quietly, wit no fanfare or trumpets.

We want to see the peacemakers fit and i the pink. We want them spry and happy. The will be a setup for Mars if they are fat, bo and dejected. If some fancy skating keeps delegate more in the mood for straight talk w are for it. And a hot bath can't make Gromyk any worse. But pipe down on that angle won't help UN if in the public's eye it become confused with the Ice Follies.

Sincerely,
ELMER.

P.S.—If there is anything in the rumor th opening events in the international sports cente will include throwing the 50-pound baloney lifting the 100-pound brief case and the fir underwater double-talk carnival, please den it at once.

Back-Home Stuff

We had our annual sleigh ride back home th other day, and nothing that ever happened i "Pickwick Papers" was much funnier. W hauled out the cutter which we bought at t Milford Church auction last spring and got horse, Queenie, from Tex Neuen's stables. Not having harnessed a critter in years, we mus have gone wrong somewhere, for, while zoom along Cherry street nicely the sleigh hit a d spot on the road and Queenie went right ou from between the shafts. There we were the cutter, with the horse galloping 300 yard away! The business of catching the mare amuse the townfolk no end. ..Then we had to pho for Tex to scurry over with some haywire an install her between the shafts on a permanen basis. (We are going to get even with the fello who put "Oh, What Fun It Is to Ride in a One Hoss Open Sleigh" on his Victrola and opene the window as we got under way again.)

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: I have run across the script fo the first radio program we American taxpayer have broadcast to the Russians in an effort t make them love us and now I am in favor o lopping an extra billion dollars off Truman budget.

If our government has money to spend on th few thousand Russians who own radio sets there must be money to burn. In the first place the only Russians allowed to have radio se don't have open minds, or they wouldn't b allowed to have the sets. We won't sell them anything.

In the second place, even if every Joe Blowsky in Russia owned a set I still wouldn't see an logic in trying to make the Russians love us b knowing us better. That is one of the goofies ideas Americans have—that we're lovable. Qui the contrary, the more people know about u the less they like us. Familiarity breeds con tempt. We're easier to admire from a distance than when we get up close. As the English ar supposed to have said while they were extend ing the hospitality of their island to our army there were three things wrong with America soldiers—they were overpaid, oversexed an over there.

What's wrong, I suppose, is that we are to sure of ourselves. That's our country's most im portant asset in a lot of ways, but likewise a serious weakness. When you come right dow to it, nephew, the reason we almost got knock off at Pearl Harbor was the fact we were s cocky we couldn't imagine those nasty little Na attacking us. Japan was the country we wer going to lick in three weeks, remember? Bu cockiness also made it possible for us to fig our way back over the whole Pacific Ocean i three and a-half years, which was a good tric There's a right time and a wrong time to be cocky.

It seems to me that we are muffing thing something terrible if we think the time to eve what we fondly imagine is our irresistible char against Russia is right now. Maybe to kno us is to love us and maybe the radio broadcas that are going to give the Russians that sent mental urge will do the business, but I don think so.

I think they will be just one more excuse fo the Commies who don't like us—and they're th only ones who swing any weight in Russia— grind their teeth. For my money, nephew, this i the sort of thing they let the office boys in th State Department think up in their spare time. I can't imagine George Marshall, for example believing it would do a bit of good to bea broadcasts at the Commies to tell them abo us so they'd love us more. Those babies kno more about us now than most of us know abo ourselves and I haven't noticed any ever-lovin stuff.

I was going to write to you about the openi of the sugar camp, but I got sidetracked on t Russian thing. It's worth remembering whenev a free-spender screams that the budget can't cut or we'll lose the war. Shucks. Give m regards to the family. Tell the kids I'll sa some maple cakes for them. I'll save some you, too.

IF STOMACH BALKS DUE TO GAS AND BLOAT

Help Get Food Digested to Relieve Yourself of This Nervous Distress

Do you feel all puffed-up and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in helping your stomach do the job—it should be doing—in the digestion of its food.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up nonorganic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

CONGRESS SETS DUAL PAPER DEARTH MOVES

By The Associated Press

NGTON, Feb. 26—Con- ved on two fronts today mething about the short- sprint and other paper. ommittee of the senate ness committee arranged, hearings starting March sprint problems particu- ting small publishers. use received a proposal al committee of its own y the overall paper situa- approval seemed assured. Clarence J. Brown (R- will head the five-man house members. He said concentrate at the outset on the plight of publishers of small newspapers.

A publisher himself, Brown said in an interview that increased demands for all types of paper have left the United States facing a greater shortage than ever before.

As soon as the house committee is set up, the Ohioan said, it will undertake to chart a program for immediate relief of all paper users, on a short-term basis. It will then try to work out a long-range program "so that this country will never be faced with another paper shortage in event of a national emergency."

Except for the cooperation of Canada during the war, Brown declared, the United States would have been "in terrible shape" for paper supplies, and "as it was we almost didn't have enough paper some of the time to print war bonds."

Brown said he believes the problems of small publishers who he said were "squeezed out" by removal of government controls could be alleviated in part by persuading paper mills and publisher groups to work out a system of equitable distribution for newsprint supplies.

He declared congress should help explore pulp and paper production possibilities in Alaska and parts of the United States, including the southwest, the southeast and the middle-west, and experimentation in paper production from slash-pine and cornstalks.

"The paper shortage is not confined to newsprint alone," he said. "There has been and there still is an acute shortage of paper for all uses and it has tended to stress the importance of paper production in our daily lives."

Helpless Witnesses Watch Three Boys Drown in Icy River

By The Associated Press

PASSAIC, N. J., Feb. 26—Eyewitnesses who helplessly watched three youngsters drown in the ice-choked Passaic river credited the boys today with showing gallantry to the last.

"Don't come any nearer," one boy was said to have called to men of the "human chain" that sought futilly to rescue them yesterday. "The ice is cracking. We're going under. You'll go too."

After one boy had slipped beneath the frigid waters, spectators lining the banks saw another trying to hold up his remaining companion, a Negro boy. Weakening, the white boy lost his hold and both disappeared.

Bodies of Theodore Hunter, 10, the Negro boy, and John Kowal Jr., 10, were recovered a few hours after the accident yesterday. Search was resumed today for the body of the third boy, believed to be Richard Kowal, 9, a cousin of John.

The "human chain" of policemen, firemen and volunteers was only a few feet from the spot where the boys broke through the ice when the last two boys, chilled and exhausted, were unable to hold longer to the jagged ice.

1,200 ATTEND REVIVAL HERE

Special Effort To Bring Out Sunday School Students' Boosts Audience.

An effort by various churches to have 50 per cent of their Sunday school enrollments present at the Dr. John R. Rice evangelistic campaign last night, resulted in a crowd of over 1,200 Four Sunday schools which had the required percentage, and were presented a set of Dr. Rice's books, were First Evangelical United Brethren, Christian Missionary Alliance, LaRue Baptist and Union Baptist of West Jackson, Union county. Rev. W. E. Zimmerman and Rev. R. L. Sutherland offered prayers. Visiting ministers from Kenton were present.

For the service tonight at 7:30 in The Star auditorium, Dr. Rice will preach on a text from the Catholic Bible, it was announced.

The revival service will be at Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church tomorrow night, and the message will be "Why America Got Her Scrapiron Back." Veterans will be special guests of honor. The place of the service was changed for tomorrow night because of a previous engagement of The Star auditorium for that date. Services will be resumed there Friday night.

Dr. Rice took his Scripture for Tuesday night's message from the twenty-seventh chapter of Matthew, the twenty-second verse. In part he said, "God had the question of what we should do with Jesus put in the Bible so preachers would preach about it. Every one has to answer it. You may say your family are all Christian, but you have to do something yourself about it. What your family did can not make you a Christian. God has done all He can to save you. You have to do something yourself. God does not owe you anything. It is your move. You may ask what church to join. Churches do not save. Salvation is no more creed than it is a church. The question of Jesus Christ is an unavoidable question — you can not dodge it.

"You may say you are not ready to be a Christian. The reason is sin is in the way. Two persons are talking to you tonight. Jesus is saying He wants your heart and the devil says wait until tomorrow. You are going home either with Jesus or the devil, even if you do not say so. What you are going to do with Jesus settles what He is going to do with you. Salvation is settled by the blood of Jesus Christ. Nobody can make you accept Jesus, but some day you will wish you had. Jesus stands at the door of your heart and knocks. You are the boss and the only one who can open the door. He pleads with you. If you are for Jesus you ought to say so. Come out and go on record as being a Christian."

When the altar call was made, 25 persons responded.

Other Sunday schools represented were Salvation Army, Nazarene, Emmanuel Baptist, Forest Lawn Presbyterian, Church of the Brethren, Lee Street Presbyterian, Trinity Baptist, First Pilgrim Holiness, Oakland Evangelical United Brethren, Greenwood Evangelical United Brethren, Calvary Evangelical United Brethren and Fite Memorial Baptist.

REORGANIZATION OF AGRICULTURE SNAGS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 26 — A proposed reorganization of the state agriculture department—calling for creation of one new $8,800 job and raising the salaries of two others to $6,000—faced new difficulties today.

First Gov. Thomas J. Herbert repudiated the proposal, still to be passed on in the legislature, although it had been described as an "administration bill" by Director Frank N. Farnsworth.

Second State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, already refusing to pay Edwin J. Bath who has an $8,800 post of special assistant to the director, announced he also would refuse to sign tomorrow's pay check for Mrs. Lottie Randolph, assistant director whose salary is $6,000 a year, or $1,500 more than the top ever paid this post.

Ferguson said the law required the assistant director to handle one of the five division chief jobs in the department but so far she had not done so. Unless Farnsworth notifies him by tomorrow that she has taken over such duties, Ferguson said, she will not be paid.

by two courthouse stenographers, and explained the absence of earlier records by saying two previous secretaries had died, and their records disappeared.

The Relee club lost its permit despite testimony by Charles Curry, secretary, that officials had acted in good faith, and that mistakes in club records and procedure were unintentional. Curry said officers and members had contributed nearly $14,000 to equip the club.

Hearings were scheduled today for officials of the Urban club, Carlton club, Lake Shore Home, Inc., Caterpillar club, Inc., all of Cleveland, and the Fathers of Servicemen of America, Chapter 2, Lorain, O.

GUARANTEED ANNUAL PAY INDORSED BY U. S. BOARD

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 — A system of guaranteed annual wages bore the indorsement of President Truman's reconversion advisory board today. But the board stipulated that the proposal should be left to collective bargaining and not imposed by federal law.

The group of industry and labor leaders told Mr. Truman last night that an agreement whereby an employer guarantees workers a fixed amount of work and a given wage every year could become a helpful "tool" in regularizing production and promoting the nation's economic security.

Known as the advisory board of the office of war mobilization and reconversion, the group long has been influential in framing government policy. The guaranteed wage study it submitted to President Truman is likely to be its last task, since the OWMR itself was abolished several months ago.

Mercury Rise Aids Ohio Gas Service

Rising temperatures in Marion and throughout Ohio made possible today almost complete resumption of normal natural gas service to commercial and industrial users, The Associated Press reported.

The situation here remained unchanged from that of yesterday, when restrictions on commercial establishments and small industries were lifted, according to C. E. Sechrist, Marion manager of Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

A few large Marion industries were still on partial standby equipment.

The weather prediction was snow flurries tonight and Thursday and slightly colder Thursday. Yesterday's maximum temperature was 32 and minimum 24. Snowfall amounted to .06 of an inch and rainfall to .8 of an inch. The temperature at noon today was 28.

Some night shifts reported for work last night at Ohio factories with the resumption of normal service at Cleveland, Toledo, and Dayton. Approximately 9,000 workers were involved.

Columbus, where a serious threat to residential service at South Columbus and Grove City had been averted by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., still was limited insofar as industrial users were concerned.

HOUSE ACTION HINTED IN BOXCAR SHORTAGE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—Ohio members of congress say they will turn to the house for action to ease the box car shortage unless the senate interstate committee solves the problem.

Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio), and others in the delegation decided on this course today in the face of failure to persuade the office of defense transportation to modify a directive allocating cars.

The directive, McGregor told a reporter, places hundreds of empty cars at the disposal of the Chicago market. These cars, he said, must pass Ohio industries which have closed because of lack of transportation.

McGregor along with Reps. Vorys, Carson and Ramsey protested to the ODT a week ago. They suggested elimination of the word "empty" from the directive to permit loading of the Chicago-bound cars as they passed through Ohio.

"We were waiting," McGregor said, "for official confirmation that the ODT has rejected our proposal. Unless the senate committee makes a recommendation to ease the situation, we'll appeal to the house interstate committee."

McGregor said that no other state was hit as hard as Ohio by the freight car shortage.

TEACHERS TOLD NOT TO MARCH ON COLUMBUS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 26 — Ohio's teachers should refrain from marching upon the state capital to support their demands for increased salaries, the president of the Ohio Education association asserted yesterday.

Dr. M. F. Vallance also urged teachers to give state legislators, debating how best to improve the teachers' situation, plain facts upon which to base their decisions.

"It would be unfortunate if by rash and unconsidered actions a minority of teachers would alienate the mass public support for better teaching salaries and schools," he said in reference to reports that teachers in southern Ohio communities had received mimeographed anonymous circulars suggesting either a "five-day holiday" starting next Sunday, or an appearance at Columbus Monday noon.

"So long as current teaching contracts are in force, school teachers have a primary responsibility to themselves and to their communities to stay on the job," Dr. Vallance declared.

MARKET STEADIES AT LOWER LEVELS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 26—Leading stocks encountered further selling in today's market.

The list steadied at lower levels after an active opening. Attempts at recovery lifted a few issues but failed to attract a widespread following. Near the fourth hour declines of fractions to more than 2 points were in the majority.

Accentuating the downturn of share prices, brokers said, was the liquidation of holdings by customers disappointed over the market's failure to produce a good rally on the recent flood of favorable dividend and earnings reports. Doubts persisted over prospects of labor and tax legislation.

Issues retreating included Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, Goodyear, Pennsylvania Railroad, Great Northern preferred, Texas Co., Douglas Aircraft, Air Reduction, American Smelting, Montgomery Ward, Westinghouse Electric and Johns-Manville. Resistant were New York Central, American Can, General Electric and International Harvester.

Priest's Sight Restored By Using Murderer's Eye

By The Associated Press

RENO, Nev., Feb. 26—His full vision restored, Father Edmund Boyle today hailed as "a demonstration of the progress of science" the operation involving the use of vitreous matter taken from the eye of an executed murderer.

The 30-year-old priest, formerly of Pawtucket, R. I., had been blind in the right eye since childhood. He was willed an eye by Paul Maynard Skaug of Oshkosh, Wis., and the operation was performed Jan. 11, the day after Skaug died in the gas chamber.

Father Doyle's physician said the priest had regained perfect vision.

Italians Flee Lava Flow As Mt. Etna Continues Eruption

By The Associated Press

ROME, Feb. 26—Italians were reported fleeing today before a massive flow of lava pouring from the crater of Mount Etna after the Sicilian volcano's first notable eruption since 1928 when it destroyed the village of Mascali.

The eruption, which began yesterday, was obscured by clouds of smoke. Dispatches from Catania said that after 20 hours of eruption lava had covered an area of about a mile and a half on a front of about 165 yards. The eruption was continuing.

Flashes of flame were first observed at noon Monday on the north slope of Mount Etna, midway between Mt. Cacciatore and Mt. Timparossa. Lava began to descend yesterday, flowing into the plain of Palombe and then continuing over the Collaboasso hill. The lava threatened the villages of Passo Pisciado and Randazzo to the northwest of Etna.

The lava was reported to be slowly filling the Muscumeci valley, reaching at some points a depth of more than 600 feet.

The flaming flood was three miles from Passo Pisciaro at mid-morning but still advancing. Authorities were arranging for evacuation of the alarmed citizens of the town.

INDEPENDENT VOTE IN CHICAGO SPOTLIGHT

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 26—Mayor Edward J. Kelly's Democratic machine emerged from Chicago's mayoral primary as a still formidable vehicle today by a heavy flood of independent votes stole the spotlight from the test of party strength.

The Democrats made their weakest demonstration of primary election strength in 12 years, but they polled nearly twice as many votes as the Republicans.

A projection based on nearly complete returns, indicated 518,912 Democratic ballots were cast to 275,672 Republican.

However, the independent vote cast in the aldermanic contests was estimated at 257,000—largest in the city's history.

The Republican nomination for mayor was one easily by Russell W. Root, 48, assistant state treasurer, who had the backing of Gov. Dwight H. Green's Republican organization.

Martin H. Kennelly, 59-year-old warehouse executive and a newcomer in politics, was unopposed as a Democratic candidate for mayor backed by Kelly's organization. Kelly, mayor since 1933, was not a candidate this year.

The mayoral election is April 1

Green Sees Hope Still Of CIO-AFL Merging

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—AFL President William Green said today there still is "a remote possibility" of AFL-CIO merger talks despite the apparent rejection of immediate peace overtures by both the two labor groups.

"The rank and file want merger," Green told a reporter after dispatching a letter to CIO President Philip Murray which seemed to close the door to any speedy action toward consolidation.

Green's letter declared Murray had "declined the request" on the AFL for unity talks because of the CIO leader's insistence on seeking agreement first for a united front stand against restrictive labor legislation.

Green said in his interview, however, that when Murray has considered the communication fully, a meeting of the peace committees of both groups still may be possible. Murray declined immediate commnt.

FIRE DESTROYS BLOCK

By The Associated Press

NEON, Ky., Feb. 26—Fire said by Mayor Hillard Kincer to have originated from an overheated stove or defective wiring destroyed the main business block of this mine trading center early today. Still standing among the ruins was the small brick structure which housed the scant fire equipment the town owned. Kincer said delivery of a fire truck had been promised six months ago. There was no official estimate of the damage, but the mayor said $200,000 was a conservative figure.

Cincinnati Mayor To Take Court Seat March 6

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 26—Mayor James G. Stewart of Cincinnati replaces Judge Charles S. Bell of the Ohio supreme court bench March 6, Gov. Thomas J. Herbert announced yesterday after conferring with both men.

Judge Bell, who was reelected last fall to a six-year term as a supreme court judge, returns to the common pleas bench in Hamilton county on March 1, the governor said.

Both judges received their commissions from the governor yesterday and Judge Bell, in resigning from the high tribunal, explained that his action was caused by impaired eyesight.

The longest ancient reign on record was that of Pepi II of Egypt who ruled for 91 years beginning in 2566 B. C.; the longest modern reign, 72 years, was that of Louis XIV.

Daily Newspaper Circulation Jumps To Record Mark

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 26—Daily newspaper circulation jumped to a record high of 50,927,505 in 1946, which also was "the greatest year for national advertising in newspapers since the start of network radio's boom," Editor and Publisher says in its current international year book number.

The circulation gains were general in all states and showed a five per cent increase over 1945, the trade magazine says. Morning newspaper circulation reached 20,545,904 and evening paper readers reached 30,381,597.

Advertising lineage figures for 52 cities showed a 24.3 per cent gain over 1945 and were exceeded only by 1926 and 1929.

COLUMBUS CENTRAL KNOCKS HARDING OUT 70 TO 2

Locals Eliminated from Any Further Cage Tourney Play

By GEORGE ROEST

Not even the most rabid Columbus Central supporter would have predicted it but that school's cage team last night completely devastated Harding's quintet in Edwards gymnasium at Delaware and when the final gun sounded, the score stood: Central 70, Harding 29.

This was the first start in the Central district class A tournament and proved to be the last of the season for the Presidents.

In a final analysis the Presidents were cold and suffered from tournament jitters while Central was hot and apparently not bothered by the pressure that is present in a tournament match.

Harding connected for 10 out of 57 attempted field goals for a percentage of about 17 while Central efforts yielded them 27 field goals out of 82 attempted for a nearly double average of 33 per cent.

The game followed the Columbus East- Washington C. H. game in which the seeded Capital City entry was almost upset but finally managed to win from the foul line, 46 to 42, in an overtime.

The tournament will continue Thursday night with the winners of last night's games meeting in the opener.

RECORD COUNTS FOR LITTLE IN TOURNEYS

Big Boys Tumble All Along Class A and B Lines.

By The Associated Press

Past performances mean nothing when the Ohio high schools start out after the state championship via the long and involved tournament routes—for instance take New Holland, winners of 23 straight games.

This class B school from Pickaway county had been running along in high gear until Tuesday night at Westerville when Grove City of Franklin county ran the New Hollanders ragged in the Central district and came out with a convincing 44 to 26 victory.

Grove City has won 18 and lost two—both defeats at the hands of Worthington, last year's state runners-up. The New Holland boys never had a chance, their high scorer Jim McGown collecting only three points as Chuck Smiley of Grove City threw in 18.

The state's two undefeated class A teams, Byran and Upper Arlington, will not see action until Friday. Bryan will be paired with Monpelier at Defiance and Upper Arlington will play in the Central district against Delaware, a team it has defeated twice by 20 points.

Steubenville, always a strong contender for class A honors, is out of the running following Tuesday's 54 to 44 sectional setback from Toronto.

"No Future Here," Says Resigning Case Coach

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb. 26—Don Belknap has resigned as basketball and track coach at Case School of Applied Science because "I see no future here for an individual who aspires to remain in coaching."

The Case cagers lost 21 consecutive games in two seasons.

Belknap declared "Case's material is below the par of schools it competes with and to remain here would only mean compiling a poor coaching record."

Thge resigning coach said he would finish out the current season. He said he hopes to continue in coaching or physical education at another schol.

Bob Voigts Hired As Northwestern Coach

By The Associated Press

EVANSTON, Ill., Feb. 26—Robert W. (Bob) Voigts, ranked as one of Northwestern university's greatest all-star athletes, is the new football coach at his alma mater, the first alumnus mentor of the Wildcats since 1913.

The 31-year-old line coach of the Cleveland Browns of the All-America football conference, was named last night as head grid coach by the Northwestern board of trustees to succeed Lynn Waldorf, who resigned 10 days ago to become head football coach at the the University of California.

Voigts was signed to a three-year contract, but the salary was not disclosed. The Wildcats may have had to offer Voigts at least $12,000 to lure him from the Browns, where he was reported to be getting $10,000 a year on a five-year contract.

Capital Has One Cage Title in Its Hands

Capital university's rampaging basketball team had one Ohio mythical cage title in its grasp today and was but a short step away from making a clean sweep of Buckeye hardwood laurels.

The Columbus Lutherans whirled through a 59 to 44 conquest of tough Heidelberg last night at Tiffin and mathematically moved into the state-wide throne room.

Only Bowling Green's active Falcons with a 25-7 record could have kept the Caps away from the over-all title, and they had to win their last two tilts while Capital was losing the same number. Now Capital needs but a windup triumph over Kenyon at Columbus next Monday to clinch the Ohio conference race.

BACK ON FEET, BABE RUTH TELLS HOME RUN SECRET. Convalescent Babe Ruth, revealing a trade secret heretofore told only to the late Lou Gehrig, shows Hank Greenberg, present day heavy hitter, the grip by which he became baseball's all-time home run king. Recovering from critical illness at his New York apartment, the Babe says "secret" lies in extending little finger of right hand down below main surface of the handle and butt, thus throwing the bat's entire weight into ball.

OLD SOFTBALL TEAM TO BE REORGANIZED

Marion Merchants, Top Outfit of 5 Years Ago, Revived.

Bob Putman, who managed the Marion Merchants softball team which later played under the banner of Lord's Jewelers and was disbanded five years ago, announced today that the club, with many of its old members returning, is expected to be revived this summer.

The club, which was generally acclaimed as one of the top softball outfits in Marion, will be reorganized in a meeting sometime between March 15 and 25.

Putman stated that at present it has not been decided who will sponsor but said several local business establishments, including Lords', have indicated interest.

Player interest in the club has been high and several top ranking softball outfits in the state including the Ohio State penitentiary have already asked for games this season.

When they were active, the club played chiefly Sunday games and expects to do this again but will also make an attempt to get into one of the city's softball league.

Players who have indicated interest in the club are: pitchers, Harry Moak and Ralph Ramer; infielders, Bill Freshour, Roy Everly, Chuck Reid and Bob Reid, outfielders, Dick Tuttle, Jimmy Kunkle, Denver Holliday, and Ernie Evans; and catcher, Joe Darnell.

Putman further stated that any person interested in becoming a member of the squad should get in touch with him at the Y. M. C. A.

Wrestles Walberg Thursday

Two main events are signed for the wrestling program at the Marion Armory Thursday night. These two matches are packed with mixed action as The Mystery Man will tackle Whitey Walberg, the Milwaukee Swede, and Duke Keomuka, clever American Jap, wrestles the equally clever Renee LaBell.

Both matches will be over the ninety minute route with the best two out of three falls. The match between Walberg and the masked grappler will give the fans a chance to see what the Man of Mystery can do with one of the country's top scientific wrestlers. Last Thursday the masked man beat Dutch Schultz, one of the roughest, but in meeting Walberg he will be up against a different type of grappler. The other bout should be one of cleverness as both the Jap and LaBell like to wrestle that way.

A ten minute prelim between the smaller boys will open the show at 8:30. Call Markert & Lewis Cigar Store or rather see their new store and order your best ringsides for this all star program.—Adv.

U. S. Great Place, Says O.S.U.'s Tony Aquila Following Banquet

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 26—A little man who came to America from his native Rome 42 years ago and in 1907 took a job as a laborer on the Ohio State university campus today was just as certain as he was then that the United States was the place for him.

For Tony Aquila, the legendary groundkeeper of mammoth Ohio stadium where some of football's greatest battles have been staged, had tangible evidence that his chosen fellowmen are ever-quick to reward diligence.

He could sit in his modest Columbus home and still hear the speeches of men many persons consider great. He could look at the fine, precision watch these same men had handed him last night when 520 persons sat around banquet tables to pay him tribute.

And he could hear his three sons—two named after Ohio State greats, Tony Aquila had worshiped — chattering about the wealth that had been bestowed upon their Papa in the kind of a testimony generally reserved for bigwigs. He received a check for $500, the proceeds after banquet expenses were paid and another for $195 from the varsity "O" group. Others were reported on the way to him.

There were times in the past when Tony was the butt of collegiate pranksters but there was no joking during the Aquila banquet, except when somebody gave him a lifetime pass to a burlesque theater.

Said Toastmaster Ed Penisten: "I'd rather be toastmaster for this guy than anybody."

And Ohio State's retiring athletic director, L. W. St. John:

"When Tony retires — they'll need three men to do his job."

Cleveland Indians' President Bill Veeck declared: "He's got a groundkeeping job with the Indians if he wants it."

But Tony said the biggest mouthful in the shortest time:

"I'm proud of theesa occasion."

Ruel Happy With 7th Place Browns

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla. 26—The overwhelming urge felt by every normal ball player to manage a big league club has claimed a distinguished victim in Herold (Muddy) Ruel, the new major domo of the St. Louis Browns.

Ruel, one of the game's great catchers before his hair silvered, could still be sitting in Commissioner Chandler's head office wearing double-breasted suits and contemplating the Cincinnati skyline for one peaceful hour after another.

It was that kind of job. With his lawyer's degree and his sound knowledge of baseball, Ruel was a natural as the commissioner's right hand man. But the pull of the playing field was too great, and when the chance came to boss even a seventh-place team, Muddy never looked back.

He looked happy out there today as he directed his squad.

Ruel realizes how fierce the competition is going to be around the top of the American league, and he knows it will be some seasons at best before he can hope to have a pennant contender, but he is approaching the task with relish, and he feels he knows how it can be done.

"It's a quesion of building up one position at a time," he says.

The brightest young pitching prospect with the Browns is Fred Sanford, a righthander who joined the club late last season from Toledo and in his first two starts blanked the Yankees and the White Sox 1-0 and 2-0, respectively. Ruel hopes he's just half that good.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

I CAUGHT back a smile at Mary's truculent reminiscence She has no fear or reverence for authority in her make-up, and I think, if she were angry enough, she would blister a king, a prelate, or a president who tried to make her do something she did not wish to do.

But something was wrong, somewhere. I "felt it in my bones," but I knew that I must walk warily until I discovered what it was Mary was in no mood for being probed, and, remembering our long and close association, I knew that, sooner or later, she would tell me what was troubling her.

"I imagine their ears are still tingling," I said. "But, let me order up some tea for you"

"I havn't time for tea," she said tensely. "Tell me, is the play done?"

Her eyes were suddenly tragically anxious, and my mental barometer plunged downward

"I'm so sorry, darling, but it isn't," I told her "You see, we didn't expect you for another three months"

Her eyes held fury as well as tragedy now.

"Those stupid fools!" she said. "They think that by sorting your capillaries and your nerve ends and impaling them on little spikes like butterflies and looking at them through microscopes, they can tell what ails you. How on earth they get through medical school is beyond me, but then, I suppose they teach 'em all that rot there."

"Mary, Mary!" I expostulated.

Over the Bridge

"I mean it," she said, "but that's a torrent over the bridge by now. I've got to get down to cases. Haven't you any part of the play done, Auntie Madge? Any lines I could study?"

My mind stirred with an uneasy question What was behind this eagerness? She was known as one of the quickest studies in the profession, and she must know that with the play unfinished, there would be plenty of time for her to get up in her lines. Was she trying obliquely to hurry me?

Then Dicky's speculation concerning the night letter recurred to me. She had explained that, but might there not be some—I took hold of myself, and put a query

"Mary, darling," I said, "tell me Are you in any financial trouble? Is that the reason you're so anxious to have the play finished?"

Genuine Merriment

She looked at me blankly for an instant, then her laugh rang out with genuine merriment in it.

"No, best of aunties," she said, "that's the least of my worries. You know my darling papa-in-law has insisted on paying all the hospital and sanitarium bills, and keeping the apartment on. I had a sizable bank balance when I went to the hospital, and there certainly wasn't any way to spend money there or in the desert sanitarium. And Noel's getting good money now, from his teaching, and those compositions of his No, we're far from being stony, but—can't you understand, Auntie Madge? An actress, so long away from her public, everybody will have forgotten me."

The argument might have been credible, from a less well-known actress, but Philip Veritzen knew that Mary's public was firmly hers, and would rally to her whenever she should return.

On the Road

"That is the reason why I want your present play to go on the road," he had said to me. "I don't want any other woman continuing in the lead, and weakening the part, and the play, in Broadway's recollection.

"When she comes back," he went on, "you, I am sure, will have a vehicle worthy of her — and you."

I was deeply ashamed that the tribute had not spurred me to greater effort, but Dicky, except for an occasional good-natured gibe, such as he had thrust at me a few minutes before, had aided and abetted me in my indolence.

"You went through enough while the war lasted," he would say, "to put out of commission a dozen strong dames"

But that was no excuse for my slothfulness, I told myself, and with contrition I turned to answer the query Mary was repeating

"Aren't there any little pieces done?" she pleaded. "Any lines at all?"
